GREG MILLARD, WINCHESTER, ON

ONTARIO FEDERATION OF AGRICULTURE

2020 focus: Working with the provincial government on key investments — such as roads, bridges and natural gas infrastructure — for rural areas. The provincial government is pushing for digital platforms for filings, but if you don’t have connectivity, that’s no good. Land use is a key priority as there’s pressure from development on farms.

Members: 38,000+
Profile: Farm businesses span all commodities and includes 85 per cent of Ontario farm families, from small farms grossing $7,000 to multi-million dollar operations.

Head office: Guelph
800-668-3276
www.ofa.on.ca

CHRISTIAN FARMERS FEDERATION OF ONTARIO

2020 focus: To work with other farm groups on policy issues that we agree on in order to speak with a more unified voice. Also dealing with the impact of the new provincial trespassing and animal welfare acts.

Members: 4,000
Profile: Rooted in Dutch immigration following the Second World War; includes farm families from different faith-based backgrounds representing a wide variety of commodities. Members include full-time, part-time, and second-career farmers. Looks at the long-term impact of agricultural policy. Significant number are chicken/poultry farmers.

Head office: Guelph
855-800-0306
www.christianfarmers.org

NATIONAL FARMERS UNION OF ONTARIO

2020 focus: To determine if foreign ownership and pension fund ownership of Ontario farmland is disrupting farming and is an impediment to entry for new farmers. Also, to examine how to increase the number of abattoirs, to host workshops on farm succession and to continue mentorship programs for new farmers.

Members: 1,600
Profile: Members are from a broad range of production practices and believe that agriculture should be economically, socially, and environmentally sustainable.

White Planters™ designed. Precision Performance.

Planting a seed for its top yield does not come down to a single variable. Singulation, depth, trench quality, residue management and fertilizer can each play a role to help or hamper your yield. Knowledge of how each variable can affect your crop performance inspired us to develop a planter to give you the very best in what benefits your yield.

The next-generation White Planters™ 9800VE Series combines the tested White Planters design with cutting-edge Precision Planting® technologies. From the vSet® meter that can provide unrivaled accuracy across crops, seed sizes and conditions to the DeltaForce® variable down force system that gets seeds to the right depth without over-compacting the trench, you’ll get top performance that you can see in real time on your 20/20 SeedSense® monitor.

The next generation White Planters 9800VE Series. Knowledge is yield. white-planters.com
